PART 730—RICE

PROCLAMATIONS AND DETERMINATIONS WITH RESPECT TO MARKETING QUOTAS AND ACREAGE ALLOTMENTS ON 1954 CROP

Sec.
730.501 Basis and purpose.
730.502 Marketing quotas on 1954 crop of rice.
730.503 1954 acreage allotments for rice.

AUTHORITY: §§ 730.501 to 730.503 issued under sec. 375, 52 Stat. 66; 7 U. S. C. 1375. Interpret or apply secs. 301, 352, 354, 371, 52 Stat. 38, as amended; 7 U. S. C. 1301, 1352, 1354, 1371.

§ 730.501 Basis and purpose. (a) Section 730.502 is issued under sections 301 and 354 of the Agricultural Adjustment Act of 1938, as amended, to proclaim the total supply and normal supply of rice for the marketing year beginning August 1, 1953, and to proclaim that marketing quotas will not be applicable to the 1954 crop of rice. Section 730.503 is issued under section 371 (b) of the Agricultural Adjustment Act of 1938, as amended, to announce that no national, State, county, or farm acreage allotments will be determined for 1954. Section 352 of the act requires the Secretary of Agriculture each year to ascertain and proclaim the national acreage allotment of rice.

(b) Section 371 (b) of the act authorizes the Secretary to dispense with the national marketing quota or national acreage allotment for any basic agricultural commodity if he finds, after appropriate investigation, that such action is necessary to effectuate the declared policy of the act, or to meet a national emergency or increase in export demand for the commodity.

(c) The findings and determinations made in § 730.502, which are based on the latest available statistics of the Federal Government, show that marketing quotas for the 1954 crop of rice are not required. Accordingly § 730.502 states that marketing quotas will not be in effect for that crop.

(d) Pursuant to section 371 (b) of the act, an investigation has been made to determine whether acreage allotments should be in effect for the 1954 crop of rice. That investigation discloses that there is a materially increased export demand for rice. On the basis of such investigation, it is hereby found and determined that it is necessary, in order to effectuate the declared policy of the act and to meet a material increase in export demand for rice, to dispense with national, State, county, and farm acreage allotments for the 1954 crop of rice. That action is made effective by the issuance of § 730.503.

(e) Prior to taking the action herein, public notice was given (18 F. R. 8121), in accordance with the Administrative Procedure Act (5 U. S. C. 1003), that the Secretary was preparing to determine whether marketing quotas and acreage allotments are required for the 1954 crop of rice. All written submissions which were received within the period stated in the notice have been considered within the limits permitted by the Agricultural Adjustment Act of 1938, as amended.

§ 730.502 Marketing quotas on 1954 crop of rice. The total supply of rice for the marketing year beginning August 1, 1953, is determined to be 54,556 thousand 100-lb. bags. The normal supply of rice for such marketing year is determined to be 56,918 thousand 100-lb. bags. Since the total supply of rice for the 1953–54 marketing year is smaller than the normal supply therefor, marketing quotas shall not be in effect on the 1954 crop of rice.

§ 730.503 1954 acreage allotments for rice. No national, State, county, or farm acreage allotments of rice will be determined for 1954.

Issued at Washington, D. C., this 29th day of December 1953.

[SEAL] EZRA TAFT BENSON,
Secretary of Agriculture.

Chapter IX—Production and Marketing Administration (Marketing Agreements and Orders), Department of Agriculture

[Navel Orange Reg. 12]

PART 914—NAVEL ORANGES GROWN IN ARIZONA AND DESIGNATED PART OF CALIFORNIA

LIMITATION OF HANDLING

§ 914.312 Navel Orange Regulation 12—(a) Findings. (1) Pursuant to the marketing agreement and Order No. 14 (18 F. R. 5638), regulating the handling of navel oranges grown in Arizona and designated part of California, effective September 22, 1953, under the applicable provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U. S. C. 601 et seq.), and upon the basis of the recommendation and information submitted by the Navel Orange Administrative Committee, established under the said marketing agreement and order, and upon other available information, it is hereby found that the limitation of handling of such navel oranges, as hereinafter provided, will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act.

(2) It is hereby further found that it is impracticable and contrary to the public interest to give preliminary notice, engage in public rule-making procedure, and postpone the effective date of this section until 30 days after publication thereof in the FEDERAL REGISTER (60 Stat. 237; 5 U. S. C. 1001 et seq.) because the time intervening between the date when information upon which this section is based became available and the time when this section must become effective in order to effectuate the declared policy of the act is insufficient, and a reasonable time is permitted, under the circumstances, for preparation for such effective time; and good cause exists for making the provisions of this section effective as hereinafter set forth. The Navel Orange Administrative Committee held an open meeting on December 29, 1953, after giving due notice thereof, to consider supply and market conditions for navel oranges and the need for regulation; interested persons were afforded an opportunity to submit information and views at this meeting; the recommendation and supporting information for regulation during the period specified herein was promptly submitted to the Department after such meeting was held; the provisions of this section, including its effective time, are identical with the aforesaid recommendation of the committee, and information concerning such provisions and effective time has been disseminated among handlers of such navel oranges; it is necessary, in order to effectuate the declared policy of the act, to make this section effective during the period herein specified; and compliance with this section will not require any special preparation on the part of persons subject thereto which cannot be completed on or before the effective date of this section.

(b) Order. (1) The quantity of navel oranges grown in Arizona and designated part of California which may be handled during the period beginning at 12:01 a. m., P. s. t., January 3, 1954, and ending at 12:01 a. m., P. s. t., January 10, 1954, is hereby fixed as follows:

(i) District 1: 900 carloads;
(ii) District 2: 73,023 boxes;
(iii) District 3: Unlimited movement;
(iv) District 4: Unlimited movement.

(2) The prorate base of each handler who has made application therefor, as provided in the said marketing agreement and order, is hereby fixed in accordance with the prorate base schedule which is attached hereto and made a part hereof by this reference.

(3) As used in this section "handled," "handler," "carloads," "prorate base," "District 1," "District 2," "District 3," and "District 4" shall have the same meaning as when used in said marketing agreement and order.

(Sec. 8, 49 Stat. 753, as amended; 7 U. S. C. [illegible])

Done at Washington, D. C., this 30th day of December 1953.

Director, Fruit and Vegetable Branch, Production and Marketing Administration.

PART 930—MILK IN THE TOLEDO, OHIO, MARKETING AREA

ORDER AMENDING ORDER, AS AMENDED, REGULATING HANDLING

§ 930.0 Findings and determinations. The findings and determinations hereinafter set forth are supplementary and in addition to the findings and determinations previously made in connection with the issuance of the aforesaid order, as amended, and all of said previous findings and determinations are hereby ratified and affirmed, except insofar as such findings and determinations may be in conflict with the findings and determinations set forth herein.

(a) Findings upon the basis of the hearing record. Pursuant to the provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U. S. C. 601 et seq.), and the applicable rules of practice and procedure, as amended, governing the formulation of marketing agreements and marketing orders (7 CFR Part 900), a public hearing was held at Toledo, Ohio, on July 30 and 31, 1953, upon a proposed amendment to the tentative marketing agreement and to the order, as amended, regulating the handling of milk in the Toledo, Ohio, marketing area. Upon the basis of the evidence introduced at such hearing and the record thereof, it is found that:

(1) The said order, as amended, and as hereby further amended, and all of the terms and conditions of said order, as amended, and as hereby further amended, will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act;

(2) The parity prices of milk produced for sale in the said marketing area as determined pursuant to section 2 of the act are not reasonable in view of the price of feeds, available supplies of feeds and other economic conditions which affect market supply of and demand for such milk, and the minimum prices specified in the order, as amended, and as hereby further amended, are such prices as will reflect the aforesaid factors, insure a sufficient quantity of pure and wholesome milk and be in the public interest; and

(3) The said order, as amended, and as hereby further amended, regulates the handling of milk in the same manner as and is applicable only to persons in the respective classes of industrial and commercial activity specified in a marketing agreement upon which a hearing has been held.

(b) Additional findings. It is hereby found and determined that good cause exists for making effective not later than January 1, 1954, this order amending the said order, as amended. This action is necessary in the public interest in order to reflect current marketing conditions and to insure the production of an adequate supply of milk. Accordingly, any further delay in the effective date of this order, as amended, and as hereby further amended, will seriously impair orderly marketing of milk in the Toledo, Ohio, marketing area. The provisions of the said amendatory order are well known to handlers—the public hearing having been held July 30 and 31, 1953, and the decision having been executed by the Secretary on December 24, 1953. Reasonable time under the circumstances has been afforded persons affected to prepare for its effective date. Therefore, it would be impracticable, unnecessary, and contrary to the public interest to delay the effective date of this amendatory order 30 days after its publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER. (See section 4 (c) Administrative Procedure Act, Public Law 404, 79th Congress, 60 Stat. 237).

(c) Determinations. It is hereby determined that handlers (excluding cooperative associations of producers who are not engaged in processing, distributing or shipping milk covered by this order, amending the order, which is marketed within the Toledo, Ohio, marketing area) of more than 50 percent of the milk which is marketed within the said marketing area, refused or failed to sign the proposed marketing agreement regulating the handling of milk in the said marketing area, and it is hereby further determined that:

(1) The refusal or failure of such handlers to sign said proposed marketing agreement tends to prevent the effectuation of the declared policy of the act;

(2) The issuance of this order amending the order is the only practical means, pursuant to the declared policy of the act, of advancing the interests of producers of milk which is produced for sale in the said marketing area; and

(3) The issuance of this order amending the order is approved or favored by at least two-thirds of the producers who, during the determined representative period (October 1953), were engaged in the production of milk for sale in the said marketing area.

Order relative to handling. It is therefore ordered, That on and after the effective date hereof, the handling of milk in the Toledo, Ohio, marketing area, shall be in conformity to and in compliance with the terms and conditions of the aforesaid order, as amended, and as hereby further amended, and the aforesaid order, as amended, is hereby further amended as follows:

1. Delete paragraphs (a) and (b) of § 930.41 and substitute therefor the following:

(a) Class I milk shall be all skim milk and butterfat (1) disposed of in fluid form as milk, skim milk or buttermilk (except for livestock feed), flavored milk or flavored milk drinks, sweet or sour cream, any cream product in fluid form which contains less than the minimum butterfat required for fluid cream, or eggnog; (2) used to produce concentrated milk disposed of for fluid consumption; and (3) not accounted for as Class II milk.

2. Redesignate paragraph "(e)" of § 930.41 as paragraph "(b)", delete the phrase "Class III milk shall be", and substitute therefor the phrase "Class II milk shall be."

3. Amend § 930.42 to read as follows:

§ 930.42 Interhandler and nonhandler transfers. (a) Skim milk and butterfat disposed of by a handler to another handler as any item listed in paragraph (a) of § 930.41 shall be Class I milk unless Class II utilization is mutually indicated in writing to the market administrator by both handlers on or before the 5th day after the end of the month within which such transfer was made: Provided, That in no event shall the amount so classified as Class II be greater than the amount used in such class by the receiving handler.

(b) Skim milk and butterfat disposed of in the form of milk, skim milk or cream by a handler to a nonhandler's plant located less than 100 miles from the City Hall at Toledo, Ohio, by the shortest highway distance as determined by the market administrator, shall be Class I milk, unless (1) utilization in Class II is mutually indicated in writing to the market administrator by both the handler and nonhandler on or before the 5th day after the end of the month within which such transfer was made, and (2) the non-handler maintains books and records showing the utilization of all skim milk and butterfat at his plant which are made available if requested by the market administrator for the verification of such mutually indicated utilization.

(c) Skim milk and butterfat disposed of in the form of milk, skim milk, or cream by a handler to a nonhandler's plant located 100 miles or more from the City Hall at Toledo, by the shortest highway distance as determined by the market administrator, shall be Class I milk.

4. In § 930.44 delete the phrase "Class I milk, Class II milk, and Class III milk" and substitute therefor the phrase "Class I milk and Class II milk."

5. In § 930.45 delete from paragraphs (a) and (d) the phrase "Class III milk" and substitute therefor the phrase "Class II milk", and in paragraph (a) change the reference to "§ 930.41 (c) (2)" to read "§ 930.41 (b) (2)".

6. Amend the tabulation in § 930.50 (a) (1) to read as follows:

Delivery period:	Amount
April, May, and June	$0.75
February, March, and July	1.00
All others	1.40

7. In subdivision (1) of § 930.50 (a) (2) delete the phrase, "Class I and Class II milk," and substitute therefor the phrase, "Class I milk."

8. Delete paragraphs (b) and (c) of § 930.50 and substitute therefor the following:

(b) Class II milk price. The Class II milk price shall be the average (computed to the nearest tenth of a cent) of the basic (or field) prices per hundredweight for milk for 3.5 percent butterfat content received from farmers during the month at the following locations for which prices have been reported to the market administrator or to the Department of Agriculture on or before the 5th day after the end of the month by the companies indicated below:

Company and Location

Pet Milk Co., Delta, Ohio.
Defiance Milk Products Co., Defiance, Ohio.
Pet Milk Co., Hudson, Mich.

9. Amend § 930.51 (b) to read as follows:

(b) The price per hundredweight computed as follows:

(1) Multiply by 8.53 the average of the daily prices per pound of cheese at Wisconsin primary markets ("Cheddars", f. o. b. Wisconsin assembling points, cars or truckloads) as reported by the Department of Agriculture during the month;

(2) Add 0.902 times the simple average of the daily wholesale selling prices (using the midpoint of any price range as one price) of Grade A (92-score) bulk creamery butter per pound at Chicago as reported by the Department of Agriculture during the month; and

(3) Subtract 34.3 cents.

10. In § 930.52 (a) delete the figure "1.3" and substitute therefor "1.25."

PART 953—LEMONS GROWN IN CALIFORNIA AND ARIZONA

FINDINGS AND DETERMINATIONS RELATIVE TO EXPENSES TO BE INCURRED AND FIXING OF RATE OF ASSESSMENT FOR 1953–1954 FISCAL YEAR

On December 9, 1953, notice of proposed rule making was published in the FEDERAL REGISTER (18 F. R. 8102) regarding the expenses and the fixing of the rate of assessment for the 1953–1954 fiscal year pursuant to the marketing agreement, as amended, and Order No. 53, as amended (7 CFR Part 953; 18 F. R. 6767), regulating the handling of lemons grown in the State of California or in the State of Arizona. This regulatory program is effective under the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U. S. C. 601 et seq.). After consideration of all relevant matters presented, including the proposals which were submitted by the Lemon Administrative Committee (established pursuant to the amended marketing agreement and order) and set forth in the aforesaid notice, it is hereby found and determined that:

§ 953.208 Expenses and rate of assessment for the 1953–1954 fiscal year. (a) The expenses necessary to be incurred by the Lemon Administrative Committee, established pursuant to the provisions of the aforesaid amended marketing agreement and order, for its maintenance and functioning during the fiscal year ending October 31, 1954, will amount to $119,364.00; and the rate of assessment to be paid, in accordance with the amended marketing agreement and order, by each handler who first handles lemons shall be one and one-half cents ($0.015) per packed box of lemons, or an equivalent quantity of lemons, handled by him as the first handler thereof during the said fiscal year. Such rate of assessment is hereby fixed as each handler's pro rata share of the aforesaid expenses.

It is hereby further found that it is impracticable and contrary to the public interest to postpone the effective date hereof until 30 days after publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER (60 Stat. 237; 5 U. S. C. 1001 et seq.) in that (1) the rate of assessment is applicable to all lemons shipped during the 1953–54 season; (2) shipments of lemons in volume have been made since the start of the fiscal year on November 1, 1953; (3) the provisions hereof do not impose any obligation on a handler until such handler ships lemons; and (4) it is essential that the specifications of the assessment rate be issued immediately so that the aforesaid assessment may be collected and thereby enable the Lemon Administrative Committee to perform its duties and functions in accordance with the said amended marketing agreement and order.

(b) Terms used in this section shall have the same meaning as when used in said amended marketing agreement and order.

§ 51.841 Application of tolerances. (a) The contents of individual packages in the lot, based on sample inspection, are subject to the following limitations: Provided, That the averages for the entire lot are within the tolerances specified:

(1) For a tolerance of 10 percent or more, individual packages in any lot may contain not more than one and one-half times the tolerance specified, except that at least one defective and one off-size specimen may be permitted in any package; and,

(2) For a tolerance of less than 10 percent, individual packages in any lot may contain not more than double the tolerance specified, except that at least one defective and one off-size specimen may be permitted in any package.

DEFINITIONS

§ 51.842 Similar varietal characteristics. "Similar varietal characteristics" means that the ears in any package have similar kernel color and character of growth. Ears of field corn and sweet corn, or white and yellow corn, shall not be mixed in the package.

IDENTITY, TYPES, AND GRADES

§ 52.2281 Identity. (a) "Canned peas", means the canned product prepared from clean, sound, shelled, succulent peas and as such product is defined in the Standards of Identity for Canned Peas (21 CFR 51.0) issued pursuant to the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act.

§ 52.2282 Types of canned peas. (a) "Early peas" means canned peas of Alaska or other smooth skin varieties.

(b) "Sweet peas" means canned peas of sweet, wrinkled varieties.

§ 52.2283 Grades of canned peas. (a) "U. S. Grade A" or "U. S. Fancy" is the quality of canned peas that possess similar varietal characteristics; that possess a good flavor; that possess a good liquor; that possess a good color; that are practically free from defects; that are very young and tender; and that for those factors which are scored in accordance with the scoring system outlined in this subpart the total score is not less than 90 points: Provided, That the canned peas may possess a reasonably good liquor; and may possess a reasonably good color scoring not less than 17 points, if the total score is not less than 90 points.

(b) "U. S. Grade B" or "U. S. Extra Standard" is the quality of canned peas that possess similar varietal characteristics; that possess a good flavor; that possess a reasonably good liquor; that possess a reasonably good color; that are reasonably free from defects; that are young and reasonably tender; and that for those factors which are scored in accordance with the scoring system outlined in this subpart the total score is not less than 80 points.

(c) "U. S. Grade C" or "U. S. Standard" is the quality of canned peas that possess similar varietal characteristics; that possess a fairly good flavor; that possess a fairly good liquor; that possess a fairly good color; that are fairly free from defects; that are nearly mature and fairly tender; and that for those factors which are scored in accordance with the scoring system outlined in this subpart the total score is not less than 70 points.

(d) "Substandard" is the quality of canned peas that fail to meet the requirements of U. S. Grade C or U. S. Standard and that may or may not meet the Standard of Quality for Canned Peas issued pursuant to the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act.

FILL OF CONTAINER AND SIZES

§ 52.2284 The standard of fill of container. The standard of fill of container for canned peas is not incorporated in the grade of the finished product, since fill of container, as such, is not a factor of quality for the purposes of these grades. Canned peas shall be considered standard in fill if they meet the standard of fill promulgated under the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act (21 CFR 51.2). The standard is as follows: If the container is so filled that, when the peas and liquid are removed from the container and returned thereto, the leveled peas (irrespective of the quantity of the liquid) 15 seconds after they are so returned completely fill the container. A container with lid attached by double seam shall be considered to be completely filled when it is filled to the level 3/16 inch vertical distance below the top of the double seam; and a glass container shall be considered to be completely filled when it is filled to the level ½ inch vertical distance below the top of the container. Canned peas that do not meet this requirement are "Below Standard in Fill."

§ 52.2285 Sizes of peas. The size of peas is not a factor of quality of canned peas for the purposes of these grades. The diameter of the pea is the minimum diameter of the pea that will pass freely through a rigid ring of the same diameter without using pressure. The size of canned peas is determined by whether or not peas remain on or pass through the screen sizes designated in Table I of this section.

TABLE NO. I—DESIGNATED SIZES OF PEAS IN CANNED PEAS

Size designation	Screen sizes in inches
	Retained on—	Passes through—
1		9/32
2	7	10/32
3	10	11
4	11	12/32
5	12/32	13/32
6	13/32	14/32
7	14/32

(a) Canned peas are considered as a single size if 70 percent or more, by count, of all the peas are of a single size and of the balance no more than 3 percent, by count, of the peas may be of the second size larger and no more than 3 percent, by count, of the peas may be of the second size smaller than such predominating size.

(b) Canned peas are considered as a "mixture" or "blend" of two sizes if the two most predominant sizes compose 75 percent or more, by count, of all the peas in the mixture or blend: Provided, That no more than 10 percent, by count, of all the peas may be larger than the largest size in the two most predominating sizes, and no more than 15 percent, by count, of all the peas may be smaller than the smallest size of the two most predominating sizes.

(c) Canned peas are considered as a "mixture" or "blend" of three or more sizes: Provided, That no more than 5 percent, by count, of all the peas may be larger than the second largest size, and no more than 15 percent, by count, of all the peas may be smaller than the second smallest size.

FACTORS OF QUALITY

§ 52.2286 Ascertaining the grade. (a) The grade of canned peas is ascertained by considering the factors of similar varietal characteristic and flavor which are not scored and the respective ratings for the factors of liquor, color, defects, and maturity and tenderness which are scored.

(b) The relative importance of each factor which is scored is expressed numerically on the scale of 100. The maximum number of points that may be given such factors are:

Factors:	Points
Liquor	10
Color	20
Defects	30
Maturity and tenderness	40
Total score	100

(c) "Good flavor" means that the product, has a good characteristic normal flavor and odor, and is free from objectionable flavors and objectionable odors of any kind.

(d) "Fairly good flavor" means that the product, may be lacking in good characteristic normal flavor and odor but is free from objectionable flavors and objectionable odors of any kind.

§ 52.2287 Ascertaining the rating for the factors which are scored. The essential variations within each factor which is scored are so described that the value may be ascertained for each factor and expressed numerically. The numerical range within each factor which is scored is inclusive (for example, "27 to 30 points" means 27, 28, 29, or 30 points).

§ 52.2288 Liquor—(a) (A) classification. Canned peas that possess a good liquor may be given a score of 9 or 10 points. "Good liquor" means that the color of the liquor is typical, may possess a slight cloudiness or slight tint of green, that not more than a slight quantity of suspended material or sediment may be present, and that the liquor is not viscous.

(b) (B) classification. If the canned peas possess a reasonably good liquor, a score of 8 points may be given. "Reasonably good liquor" means that the liquor may be cloudy but not off-color; that not more than a moderate quantity of suspended material or sediment may be present and that the liquor may be not more than slightly viscous.

(c) (C) classification. If the canned peas possess a fairly good liquor, a score of 7 points may be given. Canned peas that fall into this classification shall not be graded above U. S. Grade C or U. S. Standard regardless of the total score for the product (this is a limiting rule). "Fairly good liquor" means the liquor may be very cloudy, may possess a pronounced accumulation of sediment, may be dull but not off-color, and may be viscous but not so viscous that the liquor will not separate from the peas.

(d) (SStd) classification. Canned peas that fail to meet the requirements of paragraph (c) of this section may be given a score of 0 to 6 points and shall not be graded above Substandard, regardless of the total score for the product (this is a limiting rule).

§ 52.2289 Color—(a) (A) classification. Canned peas that possess a good color may be given a score of 18 to 20 points. "Good color" means that the canned peas possess a color typical of very young and tender peas of similar varietal characteristics, are bright, and the appearance of the product is not more than slightly affected by variations in color.

(b) (B) classification. If the canned peas possess a reasonably good color, a score of 16 or 17 points may be given. Canned peas that score 16 points in this classification shall not be graded above U. S. Grade B or U. S. Extra Standard, regardless of the total score for the product (this is a partial limiting rule). "Reasonably good color" means that the canned peas possess a color typical of young and reasonably tender peas of similar varietal characteristics, are reasonably bright, and the appearance of the product is not materially affected by variations in color.

(c) (C) classification. Canned peas that possess a fairly good color may be given a score of 14 or 15 points. Canned peas that fall into this classification shall not be graded above U. S. Grade C or U. S. Standard, regardless of the total score for the product (this is a limiting rule). "Fairly good color" means that the canned peas possess a color typical of nearly mature, fairly tender peas of similar varietal characteristics, the appearance of the product is not seriously affected by variations in color, and are not off-color.

(d) (SStd) classification. Canned peas that are artificially colored or fail to meet the requirements of paragraph (c) of this section may be given a score of 0 to 13 points and shall not be graded above Substandard, regardless of the total score for the product (this is a limiting rule), and, in addition, when artificially colored, the canned peas are "Below Standard in Quality—Artificially Colored."

§ 52.2290 Defects—(a) General. The factor of defects refers to the degree of freedom from harmless extraneous vegetable material, pieces of peas, minor discoloration, spotted or otherwise discolored peas, and other defects.

(1) "Harmless extraneous vegetable material" means leaves, pea pods, stems, thistle buds, and buds or seeds from other harmless plants.

(2) "Unbroken pea" means a pea held together by its skin, even though the cotyledons are cracked or partly crushed or the skin split.

(3) "Pieces of pea" means:

(i) A whole loose skin or portions of loose skin aggregating the equivalent of an average size whole skin; and

(ii) Loose cotyledon or pieces of loose cotyledons aggregating the equivalent of an average size cotyledon. Two loose cotyledons or their equivalent will be considered as one piece of pea.

(4) "Minor discoloration" means discoloration which slightly affects but does not materially affect the appearance or eating quality of the pea.

(5) "Spotted or otherwise discolored" means a pea spotted or otherwise discolored to an extent that the appearance or eating quality of the pea is materially affected, such as, vivid-green peas, or peas showing brown, yellow, or dark discolored areas. (Does not include the peas commonly referred to as "blond" or "cream colored" peas which are scored only under the factor of color.)

(b) (A) classification. Canned peas that are practically free from defects may be given a score of 27 to 30 points. "Practically free from defects" means:

(1) That for each 60 ounces of net contents there may be present one piece, or pieces, of harmless extraneous vegetable material having an aggregate area of $\frac{3}{16}$ square inch ($\frac{1}{2}'' \times \frac{3}{8}''$);

(2) That 6 percent, by count, of the peas may be pieces of peas in sizes No. 1 and No. 2 and not more than 4 percent, by count, may be pieces of peas in larger sizes or a combination of larger sizes; and

(3) That $\frac{1}{2}$ of 1 percent, by count, of the peas may be spotted or otherwise discolored: Provided, That harmless extraneous vegetable material, pieces of peas, minor discoloration, spotted or otherwise discolored peas, and other defects individually or collectively do not more than slightly affect the appearance or eating quality of the product.

(c) (B) classification. If the canned peas are reasonably free from defects, a score of 24 to 26 points may be given. Canned peas that fall into this classification shall not be graded above U. S. Grade B or U. S. Extra Standard, regardless of the total score for the product (this is a limiting rule). "Reasonably free from defects" means:

(1) That $\frac{1}{4}$ of 1 percent of the drained weight of the peas may be harmless extraneous vegetable material;

(2) That 8 percent, by count, of the peas may be pieces of peas; and

(3) That 2 percent, by count, of the peas may be spotted or otherwise discolored: Provided, That harmless extraneous vegetable material, pieces of peas, light discoloration, spotted or otherwise discolored peas, and other defects individually or collectively do not more than materially affect the appearance or eating quality of the product.

(d) (C) classification. If the canned peas are fairly free from defects a score of 21 to 23 points may be given. Canned peas that fall into this classification shall not be graded above U. S. Grade C or U. S. Standard, regardless of the total score for the product (this is a limiting rule). "Fairly free from defects" means:

(1) That $\frac{1}{2}$ of 1 percent of the drained weight of the peas may be harmless extraneous vegetable material;[1]

(2) That 10 percent of the drained weight of the peas may be pieces of peas; and[2]

(3) That 4 percent, by count, of the peas may be spotted or otherwise discolored: Provided, That harmless extraneous vegetable material, pieces of peas, light discoloration, spotted or otherwise discoloration peas, and other defects individually or collectively do not seriously affect the appearance or eating quality of the product.

(e) (SStd) classification. Canned peas that fail to meet the requirement of paragraph (d) of this section may be given a score of 0 to 20 points and shall not be graded above Substandard, regardless of the total score for the product (this is a limiting rule), and may also be "Below Standard in Quality—Good Food—Not High Grade" for the following applicable reasons: "Excessive Foreign Material," "Excessive Broken Peas," "Excessive Discolored Peas."

[1] Determined as outlined in the Standard of Quality for Canned Peas (21 CFR 51.1) promulgated under the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act.

§ 52.2291 Maturity and tenderness—(a) General. The determination of maturity and tenderness in the (A) classification is based on the brine flotation test as outlined herein. The determination of maturity and tenderness in the (B) classification is based on the brine flotation test outlined in this subpart, and the alcohol-insoluble solids test with respect to sweet type peas. The maturity and tenderness in the (C) classification is based on the brine flotation test outlined in this subpart, the alcohol-insoluble solids test and the tenderness test as outlined in the Standard of Quality for Canned Peas (21 CFR 51.1) promulgated under the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act.

(b) (A) classification. Canned peas that are very young and tender may be given a score of 36 to 40 points. "Very young and tender" means that the peas comply with the requirements of Table No. II of this paragraph.

TABLE NO. II

Type	Size	Maximum number of peas that sink in 10 seconds (percent by count)	Percentage of salt in solution
Sweet	No. 5 and larger and blends containing more than 50 percent No. 5 size or larger.	15 1	11 13½
Sweet	No. 6 and smaller and blends containing 50 percent or less No. 5 size or larger and blends of sizes smaller than No. 5.	20 1	10 12½
Early	All sizes	15 3	11 13½

(c) (B) classification. If the canned peas are young and reasonably tender, a score of 32 to 35 points may be given. Canned peas that fall into this classification shall not be graded above U. S. Grade B or U. S. Extra Standard, regardless of the total score for the product (this is a limiting rule). "Young and reasonably tender" means:

(1) That the skins of not more than 5 percent, by count, of the peas may be ruptured to a width of $\frac{1}{16}$ inch or more; and

(2) That in the brine flotation test the peas comply with the requirements shown in Table No. III of this paragraph: Provided, With respect to sweet type peas, if the eating quality indicates that the peas are nearly mature, the alcohol-insoluble solids test shall be run, and shall not exceed 16.5 percent to score in the (B) classification.

TABLE NO. III

Type	Size	Maximum number of peas that sink in 10 seconds (percent by count)	Percentage of salt in solution
Sweet	No. 5 and larger and blends containing more than 50 percent, No. 5 size or larger.	20 3	13 15
Sweet	No. 6 and smaller and blends containing 50 percent or less No. 5 size or larger and blends of sizes smaller than No. 5.	20 3	12 15
Early	All sizes	20 3	12½ 15

(d) (C) classification. If the canned peas are nearly mature and fairly tender, a score of 28 to 31 points may be given. Canned peas that fall into this classification shall not be graded above U. S. Grade C or U. S. Standard, regardless of the total score for the product (this is a limiting rule). "Nearly mature and fairly tender" means:

(1) That the skins of not more than 25 percent, by count, of the peas may be ruptured to a width of $\frac{1}{16}$ inch or more;[1]

(2) That not less than 90 percent, by count, of the peas are of such tenderness that they are not crushable by a weight of not more than 907.2 grams (2 pounds); and[1]

(3) That the alcohol-insoluble solids of early type peas are not more than 23.5 percent and of sweet type peas not more than 21 percent.[2] The following requirements shown in Table No. IV of this paragraph, with respect to the flotation test, provide a guide for scoring canned peas which are nearly mature and fairly tender:

TABLE NO. IV

Type	Size	Maximum number of peas that sink in 10 seconds (percent by count)	Percentage of salt in solution
Sweet	All sizes	10	15
Early	All sizes	10	16

(e) (SStd) classification. Canned peas that fail to meet the requirements of paragraph (d) of this section may be given a score of 0 to 27 points and shall not be graded above Substandard, regardless of the total score for the product (this is a limiting rule) and may also be "Below Standard in Quality—Good Food—Not High Grade," for the following applicable reasons: "Excessive Cracked Peas," "Not Tender," "Excessively Mealy."

METHODS OF ANALYSES

§ 52.2292 Methods of analyses—(a) Brine flotation test. The brine solution is based on the percentage of pure salt (NaCl) in solution. In making the test a 250 ml. glass beaker is filled with the brine solution to a depth of two inches. The temperature of the solution and peas tested should approximate 68 degrees Fahrenheit. Only peas that sink to the bottom of the receptacle within 10 seconds after immersion are counted as "peas that sink."

(b) Alcohol-insoluble solids. (1) Pour sample on 8-mesh screen, using 8-inch screen for containers of less than 3 pounds net weight, and 12-inch screen for larger quantities. Spread peas evenly and allow to drain. Transfer peas to white pan and remove any foreign material. Add volume of H_2O equal to double volume of original sample.

(2) Pour peas back on screen, spreading evenly; tilt screen as much as possible without shifting peas; and drain two minutes. With cloth wipe surplus moisture from lower surface of screen. Grind drained peas in food chopper until cotyledons are reduced to smooth homogenous paste, stir, and weigh 20 grams of ground material into 600 ml. beaker. Add 360 ml. or 8 percent alcohol, stir, cover beaker, and bring to boil. Simmer slowly 30 minutes.

(3) Fit into Buchner funnel filter paper of appropriate size (previously prepared by drying in flat-bottomed dish two hours at a temperature of boiling H_2O, covering with tight-fitting cover, cooling in desiccator, and weighing at once). Apply suction and transfer contents of beaker to the Buchner funnel in such manner as to avoid running over edge of paper. Suck dry and wash material on filter with 80 percent alcohol until washings are clear and colorless.

(4) Transfer filter paper and alcohol-insoluble solids to dish used in preparation of filter paper, dry uncovered two hours at temperature of boiling H_2O, place cover on dish, cool in desiccator, and weigh at once. From this weight deduct weight of dish, cover, and paper. Calculate percent by weight of alcohol-insoluble solids.

(c) Tenderness test. Remove the skin of a pea, placing one of its cotyledons, with flat surface down on the approximate center of the level, smooth surface of a rigid plate, lowering a horizontal disc to the highest point of the cotyledon, and measuring the height of the cotyledon. The disc must be of rigid material and affixed to a rod held vertically by a support through which the rod can freely move upward or downward. The lower face of the disc must be a smooth, plane surface horizontal to the vertical axis of the rod. A device to which weight may be added is affixed to the upper end of the rod. Before lowering the disc to the cotyledon, adjust the combined weight of disc, rod, and device to 100 grams. After measuring the height of the cotyledon, and shifting the plate, if necessary, so that the cotyledon is under the approximate center of the disc, add weight to the device at a uniform, continuous rate of 12 grams per second until the cotyledon is pressed to one-fourth its previously measured height, or until the combined weight of disc, rod, and device is 907.2 grams (2 pounds). A pea so tested shall be considered to be crushed when its cotyledon is pressed to one-fourth its original height.

LOT CERTIFICATION TOLERANCES

§ 52.2293 Tolerances for certification of officially drawn samples. (a) When certifying samples that have been officially drawn and which represent a specific lot of canned peas, and if all containers comprising the sample meet all applicable standards of quality promulgated under the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act and in effect at the time of the aforesaid certification, the grade for such lot will be determined by averaging the total scores of the containers comprising the sample, if, with respect to those factors which are scored:

(1) Not more than one-sixth of the containers fails to meet the grade indicated by the average of such total scores;

(2) None of the containers falls more than 4 points below the minimum score for the grade indicated by the average of such total scores;

(3) None of the containers falls more than one grade below the grade indicated by the average of such total scores;

(4) The average score of all containers for any factor subject to a limiting rule is within the score range of that factor for the grade indicated by the average of the total scores of the containers comprising the sample.

HANDLING OF MILK IN TRI-STATE MARKETING AREA

CONSIDERATION OF SUSPENSION OR TERMINATION OF CERTAIN PRICE PROVISIONS CONTAINED IN ORDER

Notice is hereby given that pursuant to the applicable provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U. S. C. 601 et seq.), consideration is being given to the suspension or termination of the provisions of § 972.41 (b) of the order, as amended, regulating the handling of milk in the Tri-State marketing area. Request for the suspension or termination of such provisions has been filed with the Dairy Division, Agricultural Marketing Service. It is alleged in such request that the provisions referred to will not tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act during the next few months in view of certain supply and marketing adjustments which have taken place since the order was last amended in respect of § 972.41 (b) on November 1, 1953.

In accordance with the Administrative Procedure Act (5 U. S. C. 1001 et seq.), all persons who desire to submit oral or written data, views, or arguments with respect to the necessity for the action under consideration will be given an opportunity to do so at a public meeting to be held at the office of the Market Administrator, 64 State Street, Gallipolis, Ohio, 10:00 a. m., e. s. t., January 4, 1954.

Issued at Washington, D. C., this 29th day of December 1953.

[Docket No. AO 201-A2]

HANDLING OF DRIED PRUNES PRODUCED IN CALIFORNIA

DECISION WITH RESPECT TO PROPOSED FURTHER AMENDMENTS TO AMENDED MARKETING AGREEMENT AND ORDER

Pursuant to the provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U. S. C. 601 et seq.) (hereinafter referred to as the "act"), and the rules of practice and procedure governing proceedings to formulate marketing agreements and marketing orders (7 CFR, 1952 Rev., Part 900), a public hearing was held at San Francisco, California on April 14, 15, 16 and 17, 1953, upon proposed further amendments to Marketing Agreement No. 110, as amended, and Order No. 93, as amended (7 CFR, 1952 Rev., Part 993), regulating the handling of dried prunes produced in California. Said amended marketing agreement and order are effective pursuant to the provisions of the act.

Upon the basis of the evidence adduced at the aforementioned hearing and record thereof, the Assistant Administrator, Production and Marketing Administration, United States Department of Agriculture, on August 27, 1953, filed with the Hearing Clerk, United States Department of Agriculture, his recommended decision in this proceeding. Notice of such recommended decision, and opportunity to file written exceptions with respect thereto, was published in the FEDERAL REGISTER (18 F. R. 5304) on September 2, 1953.

Ruling on exceptions. An exception to the recommended decision was filed by Fred Onstott, President, and H. C. Reimer, Secretary, on behalf of the Northern California Prune Council, Colusa, California. This exception has been considered carefully and fully in conjunction with the record evidence pertaining thereto in arriving at the findings and conclusions set forth in this decision. A ruling on such exception is hereinafter set forth in connection with the findings and conclusions to which they refer. To any extent that the findings and conclusions of this decision are at variance with any exception not otherwise specifically ruled upon, such exception is overruled.

Findings and conclusions. The material issues and the findings and conclusions of the aforesaid recommended decision (R. R. Doc. 53-7645; 18 F. R. 5304) are hereby approved and adopted as the material issues and the findings and conclusions of this decision as if set forth in full herein, except for the corrections which are set forth below, and except as they are modified by the findings and conclusions, including those in connection with the exception, as hereinafter set forth.

The corrections are as follows: In the issue numbered 1 (in the first line of the first column on page 5305) change the word "file" to "fill;" in the findings and conclusions on the issue numbered 8 (in the 33d line of the first full paragraph in the first column on page 5313), change the words "to sell direct such a foreign" to read "to sell direct to such a foreign;" in the findings and conclusions on the issue numbered 9 (in the first line of the second full paragraph in the third column on page 5313) correct the spelling of the second word to read "provisions;" in the discussion of the issue numbered 10 (in the 14th line of the first full paragraph in the second column on page 5314) correct the spelling of the second word to "quantity;" in the discussion of the issue numbered 14 (in the 11th line of the last paragraph beginning in the third column on page 5315) change the words "which the combined tolerance is now 10" to read "which the combined tolerance allowance is now 10;" in the discussion of the issue numbered 14 (in the 8th line from the bottom of the first full paragraph in the first column on page 5316) change the first "as" to read "at;" and, in the discussion of the issue numbered 14 (in the first line of the last paragraph beginning in the first column on page 5316) change the word "hearings" to read "hearing."

The exception, and the ruling thereon, is as follows:

(1) In the discussion of material issue numbered 10, it was concluded that § 993.63 (f) should be amended by the addition of provisions requiring that whenever a certificate of inspection applicable to prunes turned over to a handler unsorted by a producer or dehydrator to be held by the handler as substandard natural condition prunes for the account of the committee pursuant to the provisions of § 993.48 (e) (1) (iii) shows that such prunes fail to meet the applicable minimum standards set forth in § 993.97 (Exhibit A), when considered in terms of the entire lot, as they relate to the defects of mold, imbedded dirt, insect infestation, and decay, such prunes shall be sold or disposed of by the committee only to persons who are not handlers of prunes and only for disposition as animal feed, for distillation, or for any use other than for human consumption. The amendment also would require that whenever a certificate of appraisal issued pursuant to the provisions of § 993.48 (e) (2) shows that if the quantity of substandard prunes to which such certificate applies were to have all offgrade prunes removed therefrom such offgrade prunes would fail to meet the applicable minimum standards set forth in § 993.97 (Exhibit A) as they relate to the above-mentioned defects, a quantity of prunes equivalent to the weight of such offgrade prunes necessary to be removed from the total tonnage shown on the applicable certificate in order for the remainder to be standard prunes shall be sold or disposed of by the committee only to persons who are not handlers of prunes and only for disposition as animal feed, for distillation, or for any use other than for human consumption.

A brief, taking exception to this amendment and requesting its deletion from those proposed, was filed by the Northern California Prune Council, Colusa, California, a group of prune producers.

It is explained in the introduction of the brief that the Council is not opposed to the intent of the proposed amendment that the quantity of inedible prunes in prunes marketed for human consumption be reduced or eliminated, but that the Council feels the proposal would not accomplish this purpose and requests its deletion so that the industry, after more thorough study, may submit a more practical solution to the problem.

Five major objections to the proposed amendment are included in the Council's brief: (1) The amendment is impractical of operation; (2) the amendment discriminates between cooperative association members and independent producers; (3) the amendment discriminates as to districts; (4) the amendment appears to be contrary to the present provisions of the order in §§ 993.48 and 993.49 which require that, as near as practicable, the incoming and outgoing inspection provisions be comparable; and (5) the amendment might "short" the juice supply.

In support of the view that the amendment is impractical of operation, it is stated that inspectors would have difficulty in inspecting prunes to such a critical point as would be required; that the heavy responsibility that would be placed on inspectors would be unfair to packers, growers and the inspector; that the financial importance to the grower imposed by this amendment could mean his profit or loss for the year; and that a grower would hesitate to have an appraisal inspection, and as a result, would have to deliver the lot on a conditional receiving basis providing for later reconditioning, thus greatly increasing his expense as well as interfering with normal industry practice.

The term critical point as used above its understood to mean an exact, or specific, point or limit established by a tolerance figure for a defect or group of defects. On the basis of this definition, the inspection of prunes would be no more critical in respect to a determination under the amendment than in respect to other inspection determinations required under the order. The amendment, which in its application to prunes delivered under appraisal would necessitate a determination as to whether the offgrade prunes in the lot contained more than five percent of inedible defects, would simply emphasize one more critical point with which the inspector must concern himself. However, any inspection involves critical points, one of the necessary aspects of inspection. For example, a lot of prunes may contain one percent of prunes, by weight, affected by decay and be standard quality, but it would be substandard if it contained any quantity, however small, of such prunes in excess of one percent. The same principle would apply with respect to the tolerance of 8 percent for the so-called major defects. In any case, a few prunes more or less in the sample, affected by the defect or defects to which the tolerance applies, could determine whether the lot being inspected met the prescribed tolerances. Actually, the inspection routine would not be changed by the amendment, but merely the disposition of a portion of the lot inspected. The responsibilities of inspectors would be affected by the amendment only by adding one more determination to be made on the basis of the analyses of the samples. It appears that such determination would be similar to others required of inspectors under the respective quality regulations in the order, and could be made by qualified inspectors.
